The Fight over High-Tech Supremacy Isn't New. We Just Haven't Learned Our Lesson

John J. Krige, Georgia Institute of Technology

The U.S. is intensifying its competition with China for high-tech supremacy. Just two weeks ago, the Department of Justice released a major indictment against Chinese telecommunications company Huawei for allegedly violating U.S. sanctions against Iran. But that's just one piece of a much larger puzzle.
