

Experts Available: Climate Change

AUGUST 29, 2019

Danielle Kim

In the lead up to the UN Climate Change Summit on September 23, 2019, over 250 news outlets have signed on to increase visibility and coverage of climate change. If you're looking for experts for your upcoming stories, these scholars are available to comment on the following climate-related issues:

- Environmental Justice
- Youth Activism
- Climate Policy
- Energy & Environment
- Agriculture
- Electric Vehicles
- Ecosystems
- International Comparisons

Environmental Justice

PETER CANNAVÒ

Hamilton College

Email: pcannavo@hamilton.edu

Expert on climate justice, climate change's implications for democracy and individual liberty, and climate denial.

ANDREW K. JORGENSON

University of British Columbia

Email: andrew.jorgenson@bc.edu

Expert on inequality and climate change, globalization and climate change, and the relevance of social science for climate change research and policy.

FERNANDO TORMOS-APONTE

University of Pittsburgh-Pittsburgh Campus

Email: fernando@scholars.org

Expert on the climate justice movement and the importance of marginalized groups and frontline communities leading climate advocacy and policy.

Youth Climate Activism

TANIA M. SCHUSLER

Loyola University Chicago

Email: tschusler@luc.edu

Expert on the youth climate movement, how climate change impacts the economy and people's health, and climate action led by businesses, universities, and/or municipalities.

DANA R. FISHER

American University

Email: drfisher@umd.edu

Expert on the youth climate movement, U.S. climate and energy politics and how climate politics plays out in elections.

Climate Policy

DEVON KYLA CANTWELL

University of Copenhagen

Email: DCantwell@asuu.utah.edu

Expert on U.S. climate change action, including city, county, and other localized climate action plans.

DANA R. FISHER

American University

Email: drfisher@umd.edu

Expert on the youth climate movement, U.S. climate and energy politics and how climate politics plays out in elections.

MATTO MILDENBERGER

University of California-Santa Barbara

Email: mildenberger@polsci.ucsb.edu

Expert on U.S. climate policy, the economic and social costs associated with the climate crisis, and public opinion on climate change.

DAVID M. KONISKY

Indiana University-Bloomington

Email: dkonisky@indiana.edu

Expert on U.S. climate policy, public opinion on energy/climate change, and U.S. politics around energy, climate, and environment.

ANTHONY MOFFA

University of Maine

Email: anthony.moffa@maine.edu

Expert on U.S. climate policy, the interaction between state/local and federal climate efforts, and the Obama EPA's efforts to comply with the Paris Agreement (the Clean Power Plan).

ANDREW PATTISON

Colgate University

Email: apattison@colgate.edu

Expert on U.S. climate policy, intersections between climate policy and housing policy, and greenhouse gas emissions.

LEAH C. STOKES

University of California-Santa Barbara

Email: stokes@polsci.ucsb.edu

Expert on U.S. climate policy, the Green New Deal, and renewable energy policy.

Energy

JAMES K. BOYCE

University of Massachusetts-Amherst

Email: boyce@econs.umass.edu

Expert on carbon pricing, carbon dividends, and climate justice.

DON GRANT

University of Colorado Boulder

Email: Don.GrantII@colorado.edu

Expert on greenhouse gas releases from power plants, and the social and policy determinants associated with CO2 emissions.

DAVID M. HART

George Mason University

Email: dhart@gmu.edu

Expert on energy technologies and innovations and associated policies, and international efforts to support clean energy research and development.

MATTHEW TODD HUBER

Syracuse University

Email: mthuber@maxwell.syr.edu

Expert on energy technologies and innovations, the Green New Deal, and movements for public electricity.

DANIEL RAIMI

University of Michigan-Ann Arbor

Email: draimi@umich.edu

Expert on the oil and gas industry, particularly how it is regulated, climate policy design, and long term energy projections with and without climate policy.

SAMUEL WALTER TRACHTMAN

University of California-Berkeley

Email: sam.trachtman@berkeley.edu

Expert on climate policy in the U.S. states, business preferences and climate, and U.S. solar policy.

Agriculture

ANDREW FLACHS

Purdue University

Email: aflachs@purdue.edu

Expert on agriculture, rural sustainability, GMOs, organic farming, and the role of farmers in combatting climate change.

Electric Vehicles

JACK BARKENBUS

Vanderbilt University

Email: jack.barkenbus@vanderbilt.edu

Expert on electric vehicles and climate change.

Ecosystems

JUSTIN H. BAUMANN

Bates College

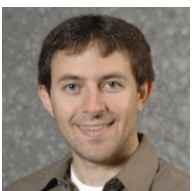

Email: j.baumann3@gmail.com

Expert on the impact of climate change on oceans, coastal ecosystems (specifically coral reefs), coastal communities, and tropical nations.

International Comparisons

MARK AXELROD

Michigan State University

Email: maxelrod6@gmail.com

Expert on the divide between developing and developed countries (and divisions within some countries) in addressing climate change.